

The New York Institute for Psychoanalytic Self Psychology Extension Center for the Study of the Self

www.nyipsp.org

Spring 2010 Workshops

Creativity and Inhibition: A Self Psychological Approach to Art and Healing

Ashley Warner, MSW, BCD

Drawing upon the work of Heinz Kohut, this presentation explores how self Psychology conceptualizes creativity and frees expression of artists and all patients.

Ashley Warner, MSW, BCD Advanced Candidate in Psychoanalysis, NYIPSP; Assistant Editor, AAPCSW Newsletter; Writer; private practice, NYC.

Date: Sunday, March 21, 2010

Time: 2:00 p.m. - 4:00 p.m.

Place: NYIPSP, 230 West End Avenue, #1D (enter on West 70th Street), New York, NY

Fee: $20.00

* * *

The Treatment of a Severely Disturbed Child from a Self Psychology Perspective

Frances Levine, LCSW, BCD-P

This workshop will focus on helping participants understand the inner life of their child patients through empathy as was elaborated in the works of Heinz Kohut.

Frances Levine, LCSW, BCD-P is a Board Certified Diplomate in Psychoanalysis, and is a clinical instructor on the faculty of UMDNJ-RJWJ, Department of Psychiatry. She is on the faculty of NJI and NYIPSP. Ms. Levine is in private practice in Teaneck, NJ.

Dates: Sunday, April 11, 2010

Time: 10:00 a.m. - 12:00 p.m.

Place: 101 Cedar Lane, Teaneck, New Jersey 07666

Fee: $20.00

* * *

The Study of a Chronically Homeless Mentally Ill Woman: The Use of Empathic Attunement and Positive Selfobject Transference to Facilitate Successful Transition out of Homelessness

Daniel Farrell, LMSW

Daniel Farrell, LMSW Director of Park Avenue Women's Shelter; NYIPSP Graduate and Doctoral Student at NYU's Silver School of Social Work

Date: Sunday, June 6, 2010 DATE CHANGE

Time: 2:00 p.m. - 4:00 p.m.

Place: NYIPSP, 230 West End Avenue, #1D (enter on West 70th Street), New York, NY

Fee: $20.00

* * *

Empathy in an Unempathic World: Self Psychology in Light of New Selfobject Discoveries

David MacIsaac, PhD, ABPP

This workshop will discuss Heinz Kohut's meaning of empathy, its essential place in his deepening understanding of the inner life, and the theories that have evolved from its use.

David MacIsaac, PhD, ABPP Co-Director, The New York Institute for Psychoanalytic Self Psychology; Co-author, Empathic Attunement: The Technique of Psychoanalytic Self Psychology; private practice, Englewood, NJ.

Dates: Friday, April 30, May 7, 14, 21 DATE CHANGE

Time: 1:30 p.m. - 3:00 p.m.

Place: NYIPSP New Jersey Extension, 163 Engle Street, Bldg. 1A, Englewood, NJ

Fee: $80.00

* * *

Into the Wild: A Self Psychological Journey

Joanne Yurman, PhD

This presentation will explore Chris McCandless' use of the undifferentiated self object experience to sustain himself in the face of developmental deprivation.

Joanne Yurman, PhD NYIPSP Board, Faculty, Supervisor; Graduate, NYU Postdoctoral Program in Psychotherapy and Psychoanalysis; private practice, Lenox, MA and New York, NY.

Date: Sunday, May 2, 2010 POSTPONED: PLEASE CHECK BACK FOR NEW DATE

Time: 2:00 p.m. - 4:00 p.m.

Place: NYIPSP, 230 West End Avenue, #1D (enter on West 70th Street), New York, NY

Fee: $20.00

* * *

Applying Kohut's Major Contributions to the Treatment of Parents and Children

Joanna Hulton, PhD

Using participants' case vignettes, this workshop will demonstrate how a parent is helped to understand their child from a self psychological perspective, and the insights than an adult can gain into their own childhood via the parent-child interactions.

Joanna Hulton, PhD. Graduate, The New York Institute for Psychoanalytic Self Psychology. NYS licensed psychoanalyst. Private practice, Long Island, NY

Date: Sunday, May 16, 2010

Time: 2:00 p.m. - 4:00 p.m.

Place: NYIPSP, 230 West End Avenue, #1D (enter on West 70th Street), New York, NY

Fee: $20.00

Checks with your name, contact information and desired workshop(s) should be sent to:

Katherine McEwen LCSW, Co-Chair, NYIPSP Extension Committee, 315 East 86th Street, New York, New York 10028

Telephone: 212.289.2121 Email: workshops@nyipsp.org